This Budget follows a year of extraordinary economic challenge as a result of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. The announcements set out how the government is extending its economic support to reflect the cautious easing of social distancing rules and the reopening of the economy in the government's roadmap.

Budget 2021

Delivering the Budget in Parliament on 3 March 2021, Chancellor of the Exchequer Rishi Sunak said, 'This Budget meets the moment with a three-part plan to protect the jobs and livelihoods of the British people. First, we will continue doing whatever it takes to support the British people and businesses through this moment of crisis.

Second, once we are on the way to recovery, we will need to begin fixing the public finances – and I want to be honest today about our plans to do that.

And, third, in today's Budget we begin the work of building our future economy.'

This Budget follows a year of extraordinary economic challenge as a result of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. The announcements set out how the government is extending its economic support to reflect the cautious easing of social distancing rules and the reopening of the economy in the government's roadmap.

As the economy reopens, this Budget also sets out the steps the government is taking to support the recovery. The Chancellor said his immediate priority continues to be supporting those hardest hit, with extensions to furlough, self-employed support, business grants, loans and VAT cuts.

He also set out plans to drive jobs, growth and investment to help the economy rebound - and spoke about the tough choices required to put the public finances on a more sustainable path.

Budget 2021: Economic and fiscal outlook

Significant boost to the economy this year and into the next

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, announced during his Budget 2021 speech that COVID-19 has had a profound effect on the UK economy. As the pandemic hit, the UK entered its first recession in 11 years.

As a result of the pandemic, borrowing is set to reach 16.9% of GDP in 2020/21, the highest level of peacetime borrowing on record, and underlying debt will peak at 97.1% in 2023/24.

He said the Office for Budget Responsibility (OBR) expects the economy to recover quickly when restrictions are lifted. The measures in Budget 2021, alongside previous support – including next year’s £100 billion capital programme – will provide a significant boost to the economy this year and into the next, while continuing to support people, businesses and public services. The OBR judges that the Budget’s investment package will increase business investment by around 10% at its peak in 2022/23.

Despite more severe restrictions in the first quarter of this year than anticipated in the November forecast, Mr Sunak said that the economy will recover to its pre-crisis peak around six months earlier, with GDP around 0.75% higher in Spring and Summer 2021.

As a result of the pandemic, borrowing is set to reach 16.9% of GDP in 2020/21, the highest level of peacetime borrowing on record, and underlying debt will peak at 97.1% in 2023/24. The OBR forecast shows that the medium-term outlook for the public finances has improved, with the current budget almost in balance, and underlying debt as a share of GDP is expected to fall in the last two years of the forecast. ◀

Budget 2021: COVID-19

Additional coronavirus virus vaccination roll-out support

An extra £1.65 billion cash injection was announced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, to ensure the COVID-19 vaccination roll-out in England continues to be a success.

A further £28 million will increase the UK’s capacity for vaccine testing, support clinical trials and improve the UK’s ability to rapidly acquire samples of new variants of COVID-19.

Mr Sunak said £22 million would be allocated for a world-leading study to test the effectiveness of combinations of different COVID-19 vaccines. This will also fund the world’s first study assessing the effectiveness of a third dose of vaccine to improve the response against current and future variants of COVID-19.

A further £5 million on top of a previous £9 million investment in clinical-scale mRNA manufacturing will create a ‘library’ of vaccines to work against COVID-19 variants for possible rapid response deployment.

The Chancellor also extended £500 Test and Trace support payments in England until the summer. ◀

Budget 2021: Strengthening the public finances

What you need to know

Maintaining the Income Tax Personal Allowance and higher rate threshold from April 2022 until April 2026.

To balance the need to raise revenue with the objective of having an internationally competitive tax system, the rate of Corporation Tax will increase to 25%, which will remain the lowest rate in the G7. In order to support the recovery, the increase will not take effect until 2023. Businesses with profits of £50,000 or less, around 70% of actively trading companies, will continue to be taxed at 19% and a taper above £50,000 will be introduced so that only businesses with profits greater than £250,000 will be taxed at the full 25% rate.

Maintaining Inheritance Tax thresholds at their current levels until April 2026.

Fuel duty will be frozen for the 11th consecutive year.

Alcohol duties will be frozen across the board for the second year running, saving drinkers £1.7 billion.

Lifetime Allowance maintained at its current level of £1,073,100 until April 2026.

The adult Individual Savings Account (ISA) annual subscription limit for 2021/22 will remain unchanged at £20,000. ◀

Budget 2021:

Protecting jobs and livelihoods

Support to reopen the economy set out in the roadmap

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, announced that, since March 2020, the government has provided £20 billion of grants to businesses alongside over £10 billion of business rates holidays and £73 billion loans and guarantees, supporting every sector of the economy.

Kickstart and Restart schemes

He said the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS) and Self-Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS) have protected jobs and businesses in every part of the UK. Incomes have been further protected through increases to Universal Credit and Working Tax Credit recipients, expanded Statutory Sick Pay, and help with rent and Council Tax. Alongside this, government action through the Plan for Jobs, including the Kickstart and Restart schemes, is helping people looking for work.

Budget 2021, the Chancellor said, builds on this, extending this support to reflect the cautious reopening of the economy set out in the roadmap. Further investment is being made in vaccine deployment and public services to ensure that people continue to receive the vital support that they need at this stage of the pandemic.

New UK-wide mortgage guarantee scheme

The CJRS and SEISS are being extended to provide protection to businesses and individuals that continue to be affected by the restrictions. For those in need of direct income support, the government is extending the temporary Universal Credit increase and making a one-off payment to Working Tax Credit. This Budget also confirms rates for a range of taxes and duties for the coming year. To help people with the cost of living as the economy recovers, this includes freezes in fuel and alcohol duty.

Mr Sunak announced a new UK-wide mortgage guarantee scheme that will make home ownership more achievable for thousands of people, and in England and Northern Ireland he extended the temporary cut in Stamp Duty Land Tax to support the housing market and protect and create jobs.

UK's tourism and hospitality sector

Alongside this, the Budget also extends business rates reliefs, Statutory Sick Pay support and the VAT cut for the UK's tourism and hospitality sector. The Chancellor said that the Recovery Loan Scheme will ensure that businesses in all parts of the UK can access the finance they need.

The new one-off Restart Grants will give businesses further certainty in order to plan ahead and safely begin trading again over the coming months. The government is also increasing support for traineeships and apprenticeships to help people looking for work. Where certain measures do not apply UK-wide, the devolved administrations will continue to receive funding through the Barnett formula in the usual way. ◀

Taking steps to get the public finances back on track

In the near term, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, said continuing to support businesses, jobs and people's livelihoods up and down the country is vital to give the economy the best possible chance of rebounding as restrictions are lifted.

However, he said it will be necessary to take steps to get the public finances back on track once the economic recovery is durably underway.

Highest income households

The fairest way repair the long-term impact of the crisis on the public finances, Mr Sunak said, is to ask everyone to contribute, with the highest income households paying more.

Budget 2021 takes steps towards this by maintaining certain personal tax allowances and thresholds until the end of the forecast period. Those in the highest income households will contribute more and nobody's take-home pay will be less than it is now.

Sustainable public finances

In 2023 the rate of Corporation Tax paid by the largest and most profitable businesses will increase. Mr Sunak said this is a fair way to deliver more sustainable public finances while protecting the UK's strongly competitive position as the nation with the lowest Corporation Tax rate in the G7.

The government's action to repair the public finances will be supported by new steps to tackle tax avoidance and evasion that will raise £2.2 billion between now and 2025/26. ◀

The Chancellor announced a radical new super-deduction tax incentive for companies investing in qualifying plant and machinery will mean for every pound invested companies will see taxes cut by up to 25p.

Budget 2021:

An investment-led recovery

Returning the public finances to a sustainable path in the medium term

As well as addressing the immediate challenges of the pandemic and the requirement to return the public finances to a sustainable path in the medium term, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, said the government is acting now to lay the foundations for a recovery driven by the private sector that spreads investment and opportunity throughout the UK by helping businesses to grow and improving access to skills, capital and ideas.

New super-deduction tax incentive

The Chancellor announced a radical new super-deduction tax incentive for companies investing in qualifying plant and machinery that will mean for every pound invested companies will see taxes cut by up to 25p.

The government will help over 100,000 small businesses UK-wide to boost their productivity by supporting them to improve their management and adopt new technologies. This will enable them to learn new skills, save time and money, and reach their full potential.

Reforming pension rules on investment

This Budget, the Chancellor announced, will further help businesses access the skills, technology and capital they need by modernising and streamlining migration rules, reviewing tax support for research and development, reforming pension rules on investment and reviewing rules for equity offerings. The government is also launching Future Fund: Breakthrough to support the scale-up of the most innovative, R&D-intensive businesses.

Mr Sunak said Budget 2021 will also position the UK to make the most of global opportunities after EU exit. The government will create eight new Freeports in England, areas where businesses will benefit from more generous tax reliefs, simplified customs procedures and wider government support, bringing investment, trade and jobs which will regenerate regions across the country that need it most. Freeports will benefit the whole of the UK.

Administrations to ensure the delivery of Freeports

Discussions are continuing between the UK government and the devolved administrations to ensure the delivery of Freeports in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland as soon as possible. The Levelling Up, UK Community Renewal, Towns and Community Ownership Funds will create well-paid jobs, revitalise places and develop hubs of innovation in every part of the UK.

Alongside the Budget, the Chancellor said the government's wider economic plan for significant investment in skills, infrastructure and innovation is set out in 'Build Back Better: our plan for growth'. Public investment is a significant part of the government's economic and fiscal strategy and will contribute to productivity growth.

New UK Infrastructure Bank

During the Spending Review 2020, Mr Sunak announced £100 billion of capital investment in 2021/22, a £30 billion cash increase compared to 2019/20. He commented that this is the next stage in the plan to spend over £600 billion in gross public investment over the next five years.

In his Budget 2021 announcement he also set out more details on the new UK Infrastructure Bank. The Bank will partner with the private sector and local government to increase infrastructure investment to help tackle climate change and promote economic growth across the country.

Reaching net-zero greenhouse gas emissions

The UK will host the 26th UN Climate Change Conference of the Parties (COP26) in Glasgow between 1–12 November 2021. The COP26 summit will bring parties together to accelerate action towards the goals of the Paris Agreement and the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change.

The government, Mr Sunak said, will continue to treat Working Tax Credit claimants across the UK who have been furloughed, or experienced a temporary reduction in their working hours as a result of COVID-19, as working their normal hours for the duration of the CJRS. Budget 2021: Chancellor confirms furlough scheme extended

Supporting businesses, employees and the self-employed across the UK

Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS)

To support businesses and employees across the UK through the next stage of the pandemic, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rishi Sunak, announced the government is extending the CJRS for a further five months from May until the end of September 2021.

Employees will continue to receive 80% of their current salary for hours not worked. There will be no employer contributions beyond National Insurance contributions (NICs) and pensions required in April, May and June. From July, the government will introduce an employer contribution towards the cost of unworked hours of 10% in July, 20% in August and 20% in September, as the economy reopens.

Self-Employment Income Support Scheme (SEISS) fourth grant

To support the self-employed across the UK through the next stage of the pandemic, Mr Sunak said the government's fourth SEISS grant will be worth 80% of three months' average trading profits, paid out in a single instalment and capped at £7,500 in total. The grant will cover the period February to April, and can be claimed from late April. Self-employed individuals must have filed a 2019/20 Self Assessment tax return to be eligible for the fourth grant.

This means that over 600,000 individuals may be newly eligible for SEISS, including many new to self-employment in 2019/20. All other eligibility criteria will remain the same as the third grant. Further details will be published in due course.

SEISS fifth grant

The Chancellor said the fifth and final SEISS grant covers May to September. The value of the grant will be determined by a turnover test, to ensure that support is targeted at those who need it the most as the economy reopens. People whose turnover has fallen by 30% or more will continue to receive the full grant worth 80% of three months' average trading profits, capped at £7,500. People whose turnover has fallen by less than 30% will receive a 30% grant, capped at £2,850. The final grant can be claimed from late July.

Income Tax exemptions for COVID-19 tests and home office expenses

The government, Mr Sunak said, will extend the Income Tax exemption and NICs disregard for COVID-19 antigen tests provided by, or reimbursed by, employers, and for employer-reimbursed expenses covering the cost of home office equipment, to the 2021/22 tax year. ◀

Budget 2021: Housing

Extension to Stamp Duty Land Tax holiday

Temporary Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT) cut

Chancellor of the Exchequer Rishi Sunak said the government will extend the temporary increase in the residential SDLT nil-rate band to £500,000 in England and Northern Ireland until 30 June 2021. From 1 July 2021, the nil-rate band will reduce to £250,000 until 30 September 2021 before returning to £125,000 on 1 October 2021.

New mortgage guarantee scheme

Mr Sunak announced the government will introduce a new mortgage guarantee scheme in April 2021. This scheme will provide a guarantee to lenders across the UK who offer mortgages to people with a deposit of just 5% on homes with a value of up to £600,000. Under the scheme, all buyers will have the opportunity to fix their initial mortgage rate for at least five years should they wish to. The scheme, which will be available for new mortgages up to 31 December 2022, will increase the availability of mortgages on new or existing properties for those with small deposits.

Change to Support for Mortgage Interest for claimants moving home

The Chancellor said the government will help Support for Mortgage Interest claimants in Great Britain to move home by allowing them to add the legal costs associated with transferring their claim to a new property to the value of their loan from 15 March 2021. The Northern Ireland Executive will be funded to replicate this change in Northern Ireland.

Bringing forward exemptions to the Shared Accommodation Rate (SAR)

From June 2021, care leavers up to the age of 25 and those under the age of 25 who have spent at least three months in a homeless hostel will be exempt from the SAR in Universal Credit and Housing Benefit, helping more vulnerable people access suitable housing. These measures were previously due to be implemented from October 2023. The announcement applies in Great Britain, and the Northern Ireland Executive will be funded to similarly bring forward implementation of these measures. ◀
